

Israel has started a plan to promote agro-tourism

Israel is a very fascinating destination for tourists from all over the world. This time, the government of that country started promoting a new plan to enrich this tourism. The Israeli government has started promoting agricultural activities in rural areas of the country through tourism. Which will be able to create an opportunity to increase the economy and employment of the country as a whole. The plan will include a map of sightseeing destinations and a visitor setup with economic development in rural areas as the main objective.

“Israel’s rural areas/ countrysides are essential for the continued existence of a productive and prosperous Israeli agriculture, including its economic, social, and demographic development,” the ministry said.
