

The doors of foreign tourists to India are opening from November 15

With a view to boosting India's economy through tourism, the Indian government has decided to remove the coveted barrier for international travelers. Visas will be issued to foreign tourists coming on chartered flights from November 15. The coronagraph is now quite downward so this decision has been made. A guideline has been issued by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare. The guidelines call for tourists to follow the Covid protocol, and carrier agencies, as well as other stakeholders, to comply with the guidelines. The service said in a statement that the choice was made after interviewing partners such as the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, the Ministry of Tourism, the Ministry of Civil Aviation, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and the state government.
